

Galatians 6:9 And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. Aim to do a good deed every day for a whole week. If you don't manage it one day, don't stop but carry on the next day as before. Try again the following week, and the next until you have succeeded for a whole week. If that challenge proves to be too easy, try it for a month or maybe even a year if you like a challenge!		Family activities..... <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Find a story about a person who has succeeded at something after trying hard, and not giving up when it became difficult. • Teach yourself a new skill. • Why not try and finish something that you started but never completed because you found it too tricky – have another go, and another, and another...!
Albert Einstein didn't speak until age four and didn't read until seven, causing his teachers to label him "slow" and "mentally handicapped". He later won the Nobel Prize in physics and said: "It's not that I'm so smart, it's just that I stay with problems longer." Not only does this illustrate the power of perseverance, it shows that it matters how you perceive challenges.	St Anne's CEVA Primary School Values for Life TERM 3 – 2017 ENDURANCE/ PERSEVERANCE	 “Learn to Love...Love to Learn” Teaching skills like perseverance, grit and tenacity are important for preparing children for life experiences. We positively encourage children to encounter challenges in everyday situations to build these skills in a safe and supportive environment.
